

TIDESWELL CINEMA

An AFRICAN themed DOUBLE BILL with MEAL
Saturday 6th May 2017, 4pm to 9.15pm (Doors open 3.45pm)

Be transported to the sunshine of Africa with two very different films, the first based in Mali and the second in Botswana.

Our first film is 'Timbuktu', nominated for best Film in a Foreign Language at the 2015 Oscars. It is a gritty drama, which portrays something of life under Jihadists. The peaceful life of cattle herder Kidane and his family is far removed from the regime of terror imposed on the people of nearby Timbuktu – until one of his cows accidentally damages the net of a fisherman. Life suddenly changes. In French and Arabic, with subtitles.

A very different film, 'A United Kingdom' is the true story of one of the 20th century's great love affairs. When Seretse Khama, a king in his homeland of Bechuanaland, falls in love with a white girl whilst studying in London in the late 40s, he has no idea what opposition would be unleashed against them by both the British and South African governments, not to mention their families. The film captures the heartache and frustration the couple are forced to undergo, but leaves the viewer rejoicing in th triumph of love over adversity.

Starring David Oyelowo and Rosamund Pike
